EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mark W. Sincell on May 19, 2005.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the claims:

Claim 7, Line 6, replace "server network and unknown to the mobile shell; and" with --server network and unknown to the mobile shell; wherein the first key is generated during the establishment of the security association; and--.

Claim 16, Line 7, replace "user identity module and unknown to the mobile shell." with –user identity module and unknown to the mobile shell; and wherein the first key is generated during the establishment of the security association.—.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Applicant's claimed invention discloses a method of authenticating a user identity module communicatively coupled with a mobile shell having an established security association with a server network. The closest prior art, admitted prior art in the section

"Background of the Invention", which discloses the AKA procedure to establish a secure communication between a mobile shell and a server network, and Mizikovsky et al. USPN 5,794,139 in combination teaches or suggests a similar method. However, neither the admitted prior art nor Mizikovsky teach or suggest a first key known to the server network and unknown to the mobile shell, wherein the first key is generated during the initial establishment of the security association. (The Ki secret key used to establish the initial security association taught by admission is allocated prior to the establishment of the security association; moreover, the only generated key values established during the initial security association, IK and CK, are known to the mobile shell. Hence, the first key limitation as recited in the claims no longer reads on the Ki value) For these reasons, claims 7-24 are allowed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
